ACTUAL

Because it works, minimalist design is taking over.

Minimalist design can be identified by a framework that is simple in nature, and that only the necessary elements for functionality are included. Thus, shifting the paradigm of traditional office spaces they'd been planned with permanent layouts to minimalist designs whereby it is so simple that users don't even think of it whilst working. This shift moves beautifully in tandem with the notion about encouraging workers to come together regularly, hoping it will spur fresh ideas and innovation.

ACTUAL 2.0

ACTUAL extends space efficiency into the space of management. As a versatile modular system, it can be configured to support both individual and teamworking.

ACTUAL 2.1

The light and simplistic lines of the modular aluminium desk structure support the shaping of space to meet the changing needs from team to individual and vice versa. Space-efficient environments can be created immediately with a simple menu of components and elements.

ACTUAL 3.0

This system is flexible enough to be expanded to meet the needs of group seating. At the same, it retains a consistent design aesthetic.

Improving functionality and optimising workspaces are the key to the success of using any furniture system in most Asian work cultures.

ACTUAL fulfils all standard office requirements by complementing the system easily with the all-time favorites : modesty panels (a top need in Asian offices with female workers), pedestal storages, cushioned mobile pedestal storages (doubled as a quick discussion stopover), functional screen and more.

ACTUAL 3.2

The light and simplistic design of ACTUAL legs charmingly supports the changing needs from team collaboration to individual work spaces and vice versa. Space efficient environments can be re-created and maximised by applying the SQ-s plug-and-match functional screen that come in various choices.

Integrative. Flexible. Efficient.

ACTUAL can be easily customized to support ways of working for both permanent and mobile workers.

A photograph of a modern conference room. In the foreground, a long, light-colored wooden conference table with black legs is surrounded by several brown office chairs with silver bases and casters. The chairs are arranged around the table, with some tucked under and others pulled out. The background wall is a light, textured yellow-green color and features a large, colorful mural of a person in traditional attire riding a camel and playing a trumpet. The floor is a light, reflective surface. A vertical line runs down the center of the image, possibly indicating a fold or a design split.

ACTUAL expands the space efficiency into meeting and training spaces with unobstructed legroom beneath the worksurface.
